"The Old Navy", photograph taken by Assistant Surgeon H.W. Whitaker, U.S.N., on board USS Mohican at sea in the Pacific, 1888.

The four men, with a brief transcript of their services, are:

1. Gilbert H. Purdy, who is standing addressing the others. Purdy was born in 1828, and therefore was 60 years old when the picture was taken. He was a physically powerful man and was remarkably well preserved, as is shown by the photograph. He died December 24, 1912, at San Diego, California, at the age of 84, being at the time of his death the oldest man on the retired list of the Navy. During the Civil War he served as sergeant in Battery K, 4th U.S. Artillery, and as a seaman on board several Naval vessels. He, also, had the honor of serving under Admiral Dewey on the Olympia during the Spanish-American War. He was transferred to the retired list on February 7, 1900. Purdy served as captain of the hold on board the Mohican from May 25, 1885 to August 28, 1888.

2. David Ireland, seated with arms folded. Ireland was born in 1833, and was, therefore, 55 years old when the picture was taken. He first enlisted in the Navy on April 8, 1850, so he had seen 38 years of service ... He served on many ships in all parts of the world. He served on board the Mohican from May 25, 1885, to November 20, 1890, as captain of the forecandle, seaman, and captain of the hold.

3. John King, seated on ditty box. King was born in England in 1834, so at the time the picture was taken was 54 years old. He followed the sea in merchant ships for a number of years before enlisting in the Navy, which he first did on April 9, 1875, he then being in his 42nd year. He was finally discharged on April 2, 1896, and admitted to the Naval Home at Philadelphia. He served on board the Mohican from May 25, 1885, to January 25, 1889, as chief gunner's mate.

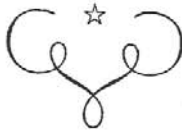

4. John T. Griffith, seated with hands behind his head. Griffith was born at Albany, New York, December 25, 1826, being 62 years of age when the picture was taken, and the oldest man of the group. The record of his first enlistment is not at hand, but he last enlisted on October 18, 1888, and was finally discharged on December 10, 1889. He served on board the Mohican as chief carpenter's mate from June 3 to June 30, 1888.

Hollywood — Hollywood is always on the lookout for new faces—if they look good in a bathing suit, which must explain a multitude of sins—Anne Sterling and Fay McKenzie down in Mexico as guests of the Mexican government doing personal appearances—Steve Crane and Sheila Ryan at the House of Murphy with two other people but very much alone—Since Gloria de Haven married John Payne, she has been renounced as the favorite pinup girl of several camps because she "married an old man," all of which makes us feel very ancient—A new Santa Fe engine has a bulge in front. It's known on the line as the "Lana Turner." —The gold watch Turhan Bey is wearing is a gift from Lana—Robert Benchley will play a navy chaplain in Columbia's "Kiss and Tell"; it will be the first time he has tried his hand at portraying a clergyman, most of his roles having been characters far removed from sanctity—Susan Hayward presented her husband, Jess Barker, with twin sons, weighing in around four and a half pounds, though premature—Julie Bishop will do a song and dance turn as well as appear dramatically in "You Came Along"—Errol Flynn will have twenty leading women in "Adventures of Don Juan," not to be confused with the story of his life—The midnight curfew on places of entertainment is causing a lot of headaches around Hollywood, but that showman, Earl Carroll, says that he relies mostly on body heat to keep his theatre-restaurant warm, and the fuel conservation ruling wouldn't effect him—Lt. Tyrone Power is overseas in the Pacific theater and a full fledged pilot—Humphrey Bogart's wife has done nothing about giving him a divorce, which must make him more than a little unhappy—A new "Janie" will be picked up at Warner's, since Joyce Reynolds, with a new husband and a big inheritance, wants to retire—The inheritance doesn't interest me.
